

Flight Operations System (FOS[®]) subscription packages

Tailored solutions for every type of operations

Rockwell Collins' ARINCDirectSM FOS[®] streamlines your flight operations, no matter how demanding or complex. The system brings you unparalleled speed, functionality and ease of use. It gathers all the information you require in one place, with a rich array of features and no redundant data entry – saving you time and effort while enabling you to cut costs and serve your customers more effectively.

Now with our subscription pricing and hosted option, we make it even easier to realize the benefits of this powerful tool. Choose from three package options, scaled to the needs of your operations.
