Maximize your aircraft availability with a predictable cost.

Our FlexForceSM Exchange program assures rotary-wing aircraft operators maximum aircraft availability while eliminating financial risk. So wherever you go, you can fly with confidence – knowing that the industry's most reliable support network is there, when and where you need it.

Your S-76 C/D operates with Rockwell Collins Pro Line II avionics. As an owner, you have benefited from Pro Line II's industry-leading reliability. But all equipment will eventually require maintenance during the life cycle of the aircraft.

Managing and maintaining your avionics equipment can be unpredictable and costly. Failure of just one major component could equate to more than 70 percent of the cost of full coverage under the FlexForce Exchange program.

This platform pricing program offers you a complete solution at a simple, budgeted cost that's based on the hours you fly. You'll have rapid, global, 24-hour OEM avionics parts support with the quality and flexibility that only Rockwell Collins can provide.

KEY BENEFITS

- > Platform-based, fixed hourly rate
- > Global, live, 24-hour OEM customer support

KEY FEATURES

- > Immediate coverage
- > Only pay for the hours you fly (minimum hours apply)
- > Program transferable with aircraft sale

PROGRAM INCENTIVES

- > High annual flight hours discount
- > Multiple aircraft/fleets
- > One- or three-year contract
- > Product upgrades
- > Warranty follow-on

PROGRAM INCLUDES

- > Exchange, rental and repair
- > Reliability upgrades
- > FMC/MDC battery replacement
- > No charge for unused exchange returns

FIELD SERVICE ENGINEERING

Rockwell Collins has maintenance facilities near many of the locations used by our customers. These facilities have on-site representatives who can provide specialized assistance to diagnose specific problems, remove defective components and refit and replace components into your aircraft. This service can be provided as an add-on to your exchange agreement.

DISCOUNTS

Discounts are provided for enrolling multiple aircraft and for high operating flight hours.

ENROLLMENT

Simply provide us the following:

- > Contact information
- > Aircraft type and serial number
- > Forecast annual operating hours

You will receive a complete, fixed-price contract, ready for signature.

PRICING

Pricing will be based on the complete aircraft parts list. Significant annual savings are possible over the cost of individual exchanges.
