| Register for a customer portal account | To access the Rockwell Collins Shop Community, you will need to register for an account on our customer portal. Customer account registration will take approximately 15 minutes, during which time you will provide information about yourself, set your desired password and accept our terms of access.
1. Visit the Rockwell Collins customer portal via www.rockwellcollins.com/customer
2. Select Register from the top right corner of the customer portal.
3. For your primary reason for requesting an account, choose: To access catalogs, technical publications, downloads, dealer resources, reliability data, and other tools.
4. Complete the new user registration profile and click Submit.
   After submitting your profile, you will receive an email from portaladmin@rockwellcollins.com
5. Follow the link included in the email to view our terms of access. If you agree to the terms, check the box provided and click Accept to complete the registration process.
If you do not complete this step within seven days of receiving the email, the link will expire and you will need to restart the registration process. If you decline our terms of access and later decide you want to access to our systems, you will need to restart the registration process. |
| Request access to Shop: Repair Parts | Once the registration process is complete, you will be able to request access to a variety of capabilities, including Shop: Repair Parts.
